

2018 Student Results

Georgia World War I Centennial Commission Awards for Outstanding Research on World War I

State Winners

- Junior Division: Daniel Wright, Scholars Guild, Monroe - Junior Individual Documentary, “An Unpeaceful Treaty: How the Paris Compromise Ignited Conflict” (Award is trip to Washington, D.C.)
- Senior Division: Brooklyn Reese, Thomas County High School - Senior Individual Exhibit, “Number Please: the Hello Girls of World War I” (Award is trip to France.)

Regional Winners ($500 cash awards each)

Northeast Georgia Contest

- Junior Division: Daniel Wright, Scholars Guild, Monroe – Documentary, “An Unpeaceful Treaty: How the Paris Compromise Ignited Conflict”
- Senior Division: William Logsdon, South Forsyth High School, Cumming – Paper, “Submarine Warfare in World War I”

Thomas County Contest

- Junior Division: Georgia Rose Patton, Thomas County Middle School, Website “The Hello Girls”
- Senior Division: Brooklyn Reese, Thomas County High School- Exhibit “Number Please: the Hello Girls of World War I”

Georgia Southwestern State University Contest

- Junior Division: Sophie Earwood, Aaron Cohn Middle, Columbus – Performance, “The Treaty of Versailles”

Bibb County/Houston County Contest

- Junior Division: Brandon Green, Bonaire Middle School, Bonaire – Website, “The Harlem Hellfighters”

Kennesaw State University Contest

- Junior Division: Aidan Snyder, Grace Classical Homeschool, Woodstock – Exhibit, “World War I: Global War”
- Senior Division: Mark Gamboa, Covenant Christian Ministries Academy, Marietta – Website, “Eugene Bullard: The First Pilot to Circumvent Segregation”

West Georgia Regional Contest

- Junior Division: Mary McCoy, Richards Middle School, Columbus – Documentary, “Consequences of the Compromise: Keynes and Versailles”
- Senior Division: James Robinson, Georgia Cyber Academy, Columbus – Website, “The Bonus Expeditionary Force”

Clayton State University/National Archives-Atlanta Contest

- Junior Division: Morgan Gill, General Ray Davis Middle School, Stockbridge – Documentary, “The Great Women Behind the Great War”
- Senior Division: Nicholas Reynolds, Lakeside High School, Atlanta – Paper, “The Spirit of the Holiday”

Congratulations to all!