Local Communities

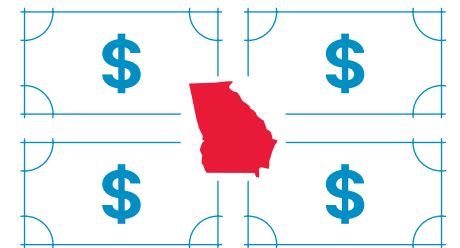

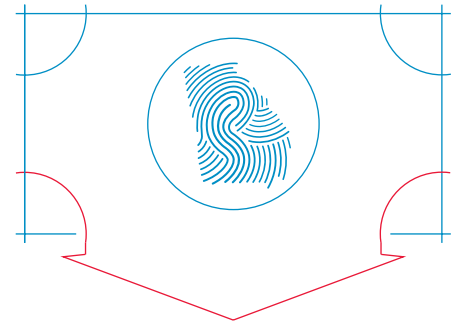

Your support delivers high-quality programming to your community and others throughout the state. Every dollar we spend leverages at least $4 at the local level.

National History Day Georgia

Using primary and secondary resources, middle- and high school students conduct and present original research by creating an exhibit, essay, documentary, performance, or website.

- Daniel Wright of Monroe won an award for the Most Outstanding Junior Entry, from the Georgia World War I Centennial Commission at the state contest for National History Day Georgia. This special award recognized his documentary, “An Unpeaceful Treaty: How the Paris Compromise Ignited Conflict.”
- Student Susie Dorminy of McDonough won 4th place nationally for her performance on the topic of Lester Maddox and his resistance to integration.
- Students William Mason and Lawson Stewart of McDonough won the Outstanding State Entry, Senior Division award for their website on the origins of the disability rights movement in Denver.
- Regional contests held at UGA Center for Continuing Education, Georgia College, and Henry County Schools
